These part numbers comprise the entire P10 product family, as specified on technical data sheet TS2255. 3M will offer last time buy opportunities for customers through December 15, 2009.

In the 1 mm pitch connector family, 3M will continue to offer the PK10 Series, as specified on technical data sheets TS1077 and TS1078. Dimensions and available pincounts will differ between the PK10 and the P10 series, and therefore, it is important that customers evaluate the feasibility of the PK10 series as a possible replacement for the P10 Series.

Actions Required

- 3M authorized distributors and internal personnel need to notify customers who have previously purchased these products of this discontinuance.
- Last time buy availability is based on material availability.
